Signs of Bed Bug Infestation

Recognising a bed bug infestation early is crucial. Look out for these tell-tale signs:

- Dark stains: Blood stains on sheets, pillowcases, or the mattress.
- Sweet fragrance: A sickly-sweet, unpleasant smell.
- Small black stains: Tiny dark bloodstains, also known as faecal pellets, on bedding.
- Live insects: Adult bed bugs and their shed skins are visible to the naked eye.

If you notice any of these signs, it's time to consider bed bugs treatment in Melbourne.

The Impact of Bed Bug Bites

Bed bugs are nocturnal pests that feed on exposed skin while you sleep. The bites often cause:

- Red, itchy, and swollen spots in clusters or patterns.
- Allergic reactions to the saliva, making the bites more irritating.

Even if some people don't react to bites, prolonged exposure might lead to more severe reactions. Identifying and treating an infestation promptly is essential.
